Verbal Description

Elongated-U censer handle - medial fragment. This fragment has mat marks on the underside and evidence of heat alteration on the upperside. It is not apparent which portion, top or bottom, that this fragment came from because it lacks any decoration, paint, or slip on the unmarked side. The sides of the handle appear to have been cut with some instrument before firing. No signs of finishing can be seen. The firing cone extends the entire width of the piece. The mat marks themselves are very visible and were made with a tightly woven mat.
